Product Description

Let’s face it, you would be lost if you dropped and damaged your iPhone®. That’s why you need a case as good as the Kensington Soft Case to keep your iPhone and you productive at home and on the go. Any case can provide some scratch and bump protection for your iPhone. But can it prevent accidents in the first place? The Kensington Soft Case for iPhone® 5/5s is constructed of soft rubber to make it easy for even those with butterfingers to get a secure grip on their iPhone. If you still manage to drop your smartphone, the shock absorbing qualities of the Kensington Soft Case will come into play to help protect your iPhone from damage and bruises. And no matter what, you can count on the Soft Case to prevent scratches to all the sides of your iPhone. We designed the Kensington Soft Case for The NewiPhone to preserve access to all of the controls, touchscreen and ports. There’s even a cut out on the back for the rear-facing camera so you never lose valuable memories. And a smartphone as great as the iPhone deserves a case with this much protection.
